familial microcytic; 6 cases of blood disorder in an Italian family, 30
Angiotonin and renin, reactions of blood-vessels in moat chambers in rabbits' ears to, 311
Anoxemia, respiratory response of dog to, 467
Anticonvulsive action of mercurial diuretics, 154
Apoplexy apparently precipitated by low blood pressure, 415
"Appendicitis, chronic," the question of, 651
Arsenicals, trivalent, in syphilis; recent advances, comparisons and evaluations, 611
Arterial and venous constriction, effect of, induced by paredrine (p-hydroxy-$\alpha$-methylphenylethylamine hydrobromide) on lung capacity and its subdivisions, 664
Artery changes, tibial, in comparison with those of radial and coronary arteries, 862
Arthritic and normal bovine cartilage, studies of cell in, 489
Arthritis, chronic, bee venom in treatment of, 796
hypertrophic, of finger joints, her edity in; Heberden's nodes, 801 nutritional aspects of treatment of, 250
Atrioventricular nodal rhythm, 857
Atrophy, testicular, animal experiments concerning hormonal therapy of, 886
Auerbach, O., tuberculosis in adolescent, 60
Axis deviation, characteristic electrocardiograms in left ventricular strain with and without, 676
Aycock, W. L., familial susceptibility to leprosy, 450
Ayman, D., and Goldshine, A. D., blood pressure determinations by patients with essential hypertension, II, 157
Azotemia, alimentary; clinical syndrome occurring as part of bleeding peptic ulcer complex, 745 due to ingestion of blood proteins; blood urea increase, etc., 162
